

Physical force is the last resort.

Don't be quick to put hand-on during crisis.

Never grab a youngster in anger, or to force their compliance. Trauma-exposed children sometimes provoke physical interventions as a source of unhealthy gratification or to seek out abuse. Stay calm and use your words.