

Think first, then act.

Not every problem is a crisis.

Many of us have a tendency to overreact to misbehaviors, especially if we are caught off guard. Take a few moments to carefully assess the situation, then respond thoughtfully rather than reacting out of instinct.