

Know your anger traps.
Self-awareness is the essence of self-control.

Anger is often a cover-up for deeper, more vulnerable emotions. It is easy to get angry and lash out when we feel overwhelmed, embarrassed, afraid, offended, or challenged. Recognize and catch your anger early, before acting it out on children.