

No one wins a power struggle.

The only winning move is refusing to play.

Don't try to beat aggressive or passive-aggressive youth at their own game. Fighting fire with fire only burns both sides. Instead, take the high road and inspire them to play a different game by freely offering respect while still firmly enforcing expectations.